

AGENT HOY MURDERED

At Close of His Day's Work At Thornport.

He Remained Unconscious and Gave No Clue.

Struck With Heavy Piece of Iron at Mrs. Neel's Stable--Murderer Robbed Him of $20 But Overlooked a Purse and a Fine Watch.

Marcus W. Hoy, station agent for the Zanesville and Western railway company at Thornport, which is a few miles south of Newark, one the Shawnee division of the B. & O. railway, was robbed and murdered Sunday evening by an unknown person or persons. Mr. Hoy died at 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

The following special dispatch from the Advocate's correspondent at Thornville, tells the story of the crime:

M. W. Hoy, 27 years of age, station agent for the Z & W. road at Thornport, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning from the effects of a murderous assault committed Sunday evening about 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Hoy lived at Thornville, which is nearly a mile from the station, and he was in the habit of driving from the village and putting his horse in Mrs. Mary Neel's stable for the day. He finished his day's work Sunday and went to the barn after turning over the business of the office to the night man Mr. Glen Lescalet. At the stable he set his dinner bucket down and started to back the buggy out of the barn when he was struck an awful blow on the head with a piece of iron two feet in length and one inch in thickness.

The murderer then robbed the agent of $20 but in his hurry to get away he overlooked a purse and also a fine watch which was worth at least $100.

Though knocked down by the blow Mr. Hoy managed to get up and stagger 150 yards to the office at the station where he muttered some unintelligible words and sank into complete unconsciousness on the floor.

Drs. Pugh and Cleason of Thornville were called by telephone and early on Monday morning Dr. E. C. Brush, the company's surgeon at Zanesville, was brought to Thornport on a special train. As the man's skull had been fractured he remained unconscious up to the time of his death and was therefore unable to give any clue that would lead to the capture of the murderer.

Mr. Hoy who was married, has no children. He was accounted among Thornville's best citizens and his murder has caused the deepest sorrow throughout this section of Perry county. Officers are on the scene of the tragedy and are endeavoring to locate the murderer. It is thought that some one acquainted with the local affairs is guilty of the awful crime.

The funeral of Mr. Hoy has not yet been arranged.

MACHEN'S TRIAL

Washington, Jan. 11--August W. Machen who has been styled "the prince of grafters," was put on trial today with his co-defendants, the Graft Brothers, on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of patent letter box fasteners to the postoffice department at the time in which Machen held the position of superintendent of free delivery. Among other noted trials that have taken place in the same room were those of Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, and the Pollard-Breckenridge suit.

REYES' PROTEST

Proves of No Avail--Secretary of State Hay Replies to the Second Note of the Envoy From Colombia.

Washington, Jan. 11--Secretary Hay has sent another communication to General Rafael Reyes, the Colombian envoy, in response to his protests against the action of the United States regarding affairs on the Isthmus of Panama.

While state department officials decline to make any specific statement as to its nature, it is understood that in a general way it follows the lines laid down in the reply of General Reyes' first note, which practically declines to re-open the Panama question.

The second communication to which an answer was returned Saturday, dealt with considerable detail on certain specified points regarded as highly important and requiring special consideration, and presented an emphatic formal protest against the action of the United States in Panama matters. Secretary Hay's answer, it is said, follows the lines of the recent message of President Roosevelt to Congress on the Panama question justifying the steps taken by the United States on the subject.

The secretary's reply does not discuss with General Reyes one matter which he urged in his note, namely, the transmission to the senate of the correspondence which has passed between himself and the state department. It is known that the officials of the state department resented the suggestion of General Reyes as highly improper and for this reason it answer does not discuss this request. General Reyes' last note also contained some reference to the submission of disputed matter to arbitration but state department officials say there is nothing in the present situation for the Hague tribunal if any reference to that court was intended.

General Reyes is ready to leave the city at any time for Colombia, and that he might leave this country within the next ten days.

A dispatch to the navy department from Rear Admiral Coghlan, commanding the American naval forces on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus of Panama, says that a sailing vessel which had just arrived at Colon, reports the arrival of 200 Colombian troops at St. Andrew's island. This island is off the coast of Nicaragua, but is a dependency of Colombia.

Admiral Coghlan says this information confirms that which he had previously in regard to the report of the landing of these troops. It is believed that the troops are those which left the mouth of the Atrato river some time ago bound for the north. It is believed they went to St. Andrew's island to put down a secession movement which it was announced had assumed some shape there.

A cablegram to the navy department from Rear Admiral Glass commanding the American naval forces at the Isthmus of Panama, announces that he has changed his flag from the Marlinhead to the New York.

IN A RAGE

Boy Kills His Aged Mother for Protecting Another Woman from Assault.

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 11--Mrs. Dinah Shown lies dead at the city hospital in this city as the result of a pistol shot wound in her breast, inflicted by her 20 year old son, Clifford, who in a fit of rage fired through a door at his mother, who was protecting a younger woman from an assault by her son. The fatal shot was fired at the Shown home Saturday evening, and the son fled at once, and has not been arrested. The mother, writhing in agony, was carried to the city hospital, where death relieved her sufferings this morning.

As illustrating a mother's love for her son the wounded woman, when asked who shot her, declared she was not much hurt. The younger woman at once informed the police that Clifford had fired the shot. The mother then admitted that this was a fact, but declared it was accidental and told the officers not to arrest him, as she would not prosecute her son. She died protesting his innocence.

Clifford was arrested by Policeman Lillison a few minutes after the shooting, and while he was in the officer's charge, Roy Shown, a brother, came upon them and in a rage tried to kill the brother who had murdered his old mother. The officer let Clifford go to prevent another tragedy, and Clifford escaped.

GEN. GORDON

Last of the Great Leaders of the Southern Confederacy, Died at His Florida Plantation.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 11--General John B. Gordon, last Lieutenant General of the lost cause, died at his plantation, near here, at 10 o'clock Saturday night after several days of severe illness.

Like Hampton and others, General Gordon raised a cavalry regiment at the outbreak of the war. It was not accepted, because it could not be armed. He then raised a company of infantry and with it went to the front. Gordon soon showed his mettle. At the battle of Spotsylvania Court House when Hancock had driven in an angle of the Confederate lines he seized the bribe rein of General Robert E. Lee, just as the brave commander himself was about to lead a counter charge and said:

"General Lee, this is no place for you. Go to the rear."

The project that had been in Lee's mind was abandoned. Gordon led the charge and checked the Union advance.

General Gordon was in the thick of the fight at Antietam, and continued to cheer his men after being wounded three times and weakened by loss of blood. Finally a bullet struck him in the chest and he fell and was carried from the field.

General Gordon was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1852 at the head of his class and then engaged in coal mining until the war broke out.

As commander of the Confederate Second Army corps he was the first to attack at Gettysburg, and he held the last line at Petersburg, fighting with stubborn valor for every inch of space. Yet he had not had a particle of military training, and when the war closed was only 30 years of age. Since then he was twice governor of his state and twice a member of the Federal Senate, and in both positions did staunch work for his people. He had been the commanding general of the Confederate Veterans since their organization. He was the last survivor of the lieutenant generals of the Confederacy. Since his retirement from public life General Gordon has resided either at his plantation near Reynolds, Ga. or at his home near Atlanta.

JAPAN

Seizes 20 Vessels for Transports

Chances for Peace Seem Slight

BUT PARIS HAS VERY HOPEFUL BULLETIN TODAY.

RUSSIA ADDRESSES THE POWERS

Japan Officially Announces That She Has Not Landed Troops in Korea as Yet.

Washington, Jan. 11--Advice received by the state department today regarding the Russo-Japanese situation are of a warlike tendency. Information comes from a Japanese source that the Mikado's government has seized twenty merchant vessels for transport purposes. A report from Seoul, Korea, says that the Russian guard there is being increased daily. It is understood that the department has received confirmatory advices of reports that large additions to the Russian forces at Vladivostok and other points north of Korea have been made recently.

Minister Takahira, of Japan, called at the state department this morning. After the call when asked by the representatives of the press as to the prospects for a peaceful settlement, the minister said he felt that the chances were very slight indeed.

MORE HOPEFUL VIEW.

Paris, Jan. 11--Diplomatic advices received here today state that peace in the far East is assured provided Japan will be content with Korea and keep her hands off Manchuria. Japan is now negotiating with Korea for confirmation of her concessions there.

RUSSIA ADDRESSES POWERS.

London, Jan. 11--Russia has addressed the Powers, stating that she will respect the treaty rights of all nations in Manchuria and declaring that she and Japan have no more right to discuss the future of Manchuria than they have of the Philippines, as the country belongs to neither. Japan has officially announced that she has not landed troops in Korea and has no present intention of doing so. The Russian note has had a quieting effect in all the capitals.

London, Jan. 11--A cable to the Daily Telegraph from Tokio is as follows:

"Everything points to the approach of war. Personally, I agree with this view, but there may be reason for a little delay before the outbreak. Therein lies the gist of the situation. A week, more or less, may elapse before the drama begins in serious fashion. The immediate issues, first on sea and then, on land, cannot be exaggerated. British and American naval men speak fairly and confidently of the chances of Japan's ships and crews against those of Russia. The Japanese army, if landed in strength and handled discreetly, will do admirably."

"According to a Peking telegram received by the Jiji Shimo today, M. Uchida, the Japanese Minister to China, last Thursday told that Russia's reply was unsatisfactory and indefinite as before. He further said that Russia was insistent in her desire for a pacific settlement, and in view of Russia's duplicity, there was no alternative left to Japan but to resort to arms."

"M. Uchida asked the Prince what China's attitude would be in the event of war. Prince Ching thanked M. Uchida heartily for the communication and said China would observe strict neutrality. The Viceroy of Peking has also been informed of the Russian reply by the Japanese Secretary."

Forty-seven Russian marines arrived at Seoul on Friday night. Yesterday the consular returns gave 70,745,014.

Singley, formerly pastor of the First Lutheran church of Shelby, officiating, assisted by the other ministers of the city. The services will be very brief.

KRATZ

In Charge of Officers Arrives from Mexico--Bond Will Be Quite Heavy.

St. Louis, Jan. 11--Councilman Chas. Kratz, in charge of Chief of Detectives Desmond and Sheriff Dickman, arrived from Mexico this morning. There was no demonstration. Kratz was indicted during the latter part of 1901 for alleged acceptance of a bribe for passage of a bill granting the Suburban street railway company the right to extend its tracks over certain streets. It is alleged that he held one of the keys of the safety deposit vault where $60,000 had been deposited for distribution among the members of the council "combine" of which Kratz was a member. Owing to the fact that his bond of $20,000 was forfeited when Kratz fled to Mexico, it is believed that his bond now will not be less than $40,000.

Washington, Jan. 11--The House today without debate unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the attorney general for a full report on the disposition of the Federal appropriation by Congress for the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Washington, Jan. 11--General Reyes this morning sent a letter to the state department saying that he was about to leave for Colombia, insinuating as his reason that his mission had proved fruitless.

In the past year's time 64 freight vessels have been built and launched on the Great Lakes with a gross tonnage capacity of 4,750,000.

WITH GREAT POMP

Myron T. Herrick is Inaugurated Governor.

Parade of Military and Civic Bodies Feature of the Day.

New Executive Takes the Oath in Presence of Many People--Herrick's Inaugural Address--Scenes and Incidents of the Day in Columbus.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11--(Special.) The inauguration of Governor Herrick was a gala day in the capital city. Thousands upon thousands poured into the city to assist in doing honor to their chosen executive. Military and civic societies were in abundance, the city was dressed in holiday attire, both public and private buildings were gaily decorated in patriotic colors and the splendid appointments for the day's celebration were carried out in detail without a single untoward incident. The state's military, under the command of Brigadier General Speaks, upon their arrival from the various towns and cities, marched to the Goodale street auditorium. The Grand Army posts, and the fraternal societies, were cared for by the local committees of the various orders.

Shortly before 10 o'clock the escort of the governor, consisting of Troops A and B, Ohio National Guard, marched to the residence of the governor, Broad street and Lexington avenue, of Columbus. The rendition filled the galleries of the state capitol and when the echoes had died away Secretary John Y. Bassell, of the Columbus Board of Trade, made introductory remarks.

The remarks of Mr. Bassell were followed by a fervent prayer by Rev. Dr. S. S. Palmer, of the Broad Street Presbyterian church. Rev. Palmer invoked the Divine blessing and earnestly prayed for the spiritual guidance of the executive of the state and nation and the continuance of peace. The Columbus Republican Glee club, known from coast to coast as one of the best musical organizations of its kind, then sang the American hymn in a manner which added new laurels to their credit.

In the impressive silence that followed, Hon. George K. Nash, the retiring governor, handed to Colonel Myron T. Herrick, governor-elect, his commission to office. The formal transfer of the affairs of state was made and all that now remained was the taking of the oath.

The scene that followed will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to witness it. With hand uplifted Colonel Herrick, in the full vigor of middle life, a strong type of sterling manhood, responded to the solemn oath before Hon. Jacob F. Burkett, the venerable chief justice of the Supreme court of Ohio. The great contrast formed a striking picture as Mr. Herrick kissed the Bible in the hand of the chief justice.

Upon the conclusion of Governor Herrick's address the ceremonies closed with "The Star-Spangled Banner," sung by the Columbus Glee club.

THE PARADE. The parade, which passed the reviewing stand on Broad street, opposite the north entrance to the capitol, surpassed in splendor and magnitude all previous reviews on inaugural days. The militia alone in the procession numbered upward of 3,000, while the great number of civic societies made the column the longest ever seen on a similar occasion in the state capital. The militia was composed not only of cavalry, infantry and battery arms of the state service, but by the naval reserves from Cleveland and Toledo. In addition to these the regulars from the barracks participated. Fifteen hundred people sat upon the reviewing stand while thousands more crowded the line of march. By far the most spectacular and interesting feature of the grand pageant were the figures, mounted on horses, which represented the progress of the world. There were Roman warriors, crusaders of the Thirteenth century, Virginia cavaliers with the quaint dress of the early colonial days. Contin-

HERE HE IS AGAIN!

Once more the Romoc man expounds the Theories of Health. This is What He Says:

SEE here, good people, I have only a few words to say in making my appearance again this year. If you need my advice, you probably need it badly, and it is simply this: start in with Romoc, the sooner the better, and fortify yourself against the ills that are bound to come during the next few months.

Remember that Romoc is the medicine made from a rock. There is nothing in this whole, wide world that I have ever found in my travels, or that any of you have ever seen or heard of, that will so effectually cure Rheumatism, Indigestion, Nervousness, and all Blood Troubles, and besides curing these ills, that will absolutely make you well of any of the many derangements that are a result of such affections.

I want to remind you of another fact relating to Romoc, and that is, Romoc is Nature's own remedy. It combines all the virtues found in every one of the great mineral springs of the world. There is not a single drop of alcohol in Romoc, nor are there any poisons or other deleterious substances, that you find the ingenuity of man adds to many so-called health-giving medicines to their detriment, and the danger of the people who use them.

Ask for ROMOC LAXATIVE TABLETS—SURE CURE FOR CONSTIPATION. We have investigated Romoc. We know that all that is said by the Romoc man pertaining to this wonderful remedy is true, and we will refund to anyone the price of the remedy not satisfied with the results obtained. Remember, Romoc is guaranteed and sold by

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine of Cardui prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in reinforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

Democratic Wisdom.

All over the country Democrats gathered on the night of January 8, and honored the memory of Andrew Jackson. In every gathering the keynote was unity. Speakers of National reputation gave calm advice, which they believe, if carried out, will mean Democratic victory at the polls next November. Nominate a sound, conservative candidate for President, one who will have the confidence of all classes, was the advice given. Every speaker urged the importance of uniting the party again, and forgetting the differences that have existed for years. Issues were pointed out, corruption now partly uncarthod being one of many. But the need of a good, conservative candidate was urged first of all.

Among the wise incidents that occurred at the Jacksonian banquets held by Ohio Democrats was the able speech of John H. Clarke at the gathering at Cleveland. Mr. Clarke responded to the toast "The Last Campaign and the Next," in a speech which was replete with wisdom, conservatism and practical common sense, the feature and climax of which was the naming of Richard Olney as the most available and popular Democratic leader to nominate for President. Mr. Clarke's wisdom is certainly to be commended by Democrats everywhere.

According to a London publisher, the society craze for the game of bridge has caused a great falling off in the demand for books.

Thirty-eight years after the Civil War there are 14 men in the United States Senate who served in the Confederate army and 13 who served in the Federal army during the great struggle.

The Nebraska senator carries his point in having a demurer setting aside his indictment sustained by the court on the ground that when the alleged attempts at bribery were made Senator Dietrich was not in reality a member of the United States Senate, and therefore not legally responsible. This is a clear evasion of the fundamental facts involved. He was a member to the extent of drawing his salary and receiving for it, and his advice and counsel, as senator accepted in taking part in the appointment of the alleged corrupt official, and it is supposed the stipulated quid pro quo was passed between the parties. But he had not taken the oath as senator at the bar of the Senate, and is therefore not amenable to the law. It is a narrow escape, with the intent to corrupt hardly in dispute.

With the Democrats utilizing in both branches of Congress every recognized parliamentary opportunity to force a non-partisan investigation of the postoffice department it cannot be seen how the Republicans much longer can resist openly or secretly the demand. Senator Lodge, the President's next friend, has declared that the Republicans do not intend to yield, but the Massachusetts man frequently speaks without his host. Propos of his strange attitude in this matter it is not amiss to call attention to the fact that in his autobiography recently published Senator Hoar refers to the saying that the difference between Lodge and himself is that the latter has no conscience, while the senior Massachusetts senator has one but disobeys it. The latter part of the criticism Mr. Hoar attacks with some asperity, but he passes by the part referring to his colleague without comment.

The retirement of General S. M. B. Young from the head of the army on Saturday brought forth words of great praise in commendation of his services from Secretary of War Root. This was in marked contrast with the way Root treated General Miles on his retirement a few months ago. Miles was retired without a decent word of commendation, though he was the recognized hero at the head of the army by all classes of American citizens. Secretary Root's meanness in ignoring General Miles' services to the country on his retirement cannot be accounted for on any other theory than partisan malice on the part of the Roosevelt administration. All three of the nations great heroes: Miles, Dewey and Schley have been shamefully snubbed and mistreated by this administration, and the cause is plainly traceable to the jealousy, personal ill-feeling and hostility of Theodore Roosevelt toward these honored men.

EVEN DOZEN
Candidates for Congress—B. G. Dawes and Mr. Van Voorhis Mentioned in the List.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 11.—There are five counties in this, the Fifteenth Congressional District, and there are an even 12 avowed candidates for the Republican nomination to succeed Mr. Van Voorhis, including that gentleman who is now considered in the race for renomination and re-election.

In Muskingum county there are three candidates—Congressman Van Voorhis, George K. Browning and Frank P. Haines. In Guernsey there are three others—John L. Locke, Jas. J. Joyce and Probate Judge Gregg. Noble county, though small, looms up with two candidates—A. M. Morrison and Frank M. Martin. Morgan, the smallest county in the district, has one candidate, in the person of Charles H. Dunn, and he is the only farmer in the bunch. Washington county sizes up even with Muskingum and Guernsey, having three candidates for the honor, and it is believed here in Muskingum county, Washington will land the plum. The candidates are B. G. Dawes, Theodore F. Davis and Colonel John F. Riley. From a factional standpoint this array is too complicated to divine. There are from a Van Voorhis standpoint, as many factions in each county as there are candidates. Mr. Van Voorhis is not an announced candidate, having agreed in open convention to retire at the end of the present term if not opposed two years ago. However, here in Muskingum county such a vigorous warfare has been waged upon the congressman and his friends by the Browning and Haines elements that it is generally admitted that he is in the race again.

Cupid, too, has plotted in the Congressman's favor. One of the society events of the early autumn was the wedding of Miss Dollie Van Voorhis and Mr. Robert Black, brother of Walter Black, who, with Peter Black has been the leader of the anti-Van Voorhis forces here for years and years. It is naturally concluded that henceforth the "Black boys" as they are familiarly alluded to, will not be arrayed so bitterly against the Van Voorhis interests as heretofore.

MASSACHUSETTS IN SUPPORT OF OLNEY

Boston, Jan. 11.—The Democratic State Committee has endorsed a movement in favor of having the National Convention nominate Richard Olney for President of the United States.

Resolutions were adopted inviting Democrats everywhere to work in favor of such a movement. The resolutions read:

"The Democratic State Committee of Massachusetts herewith places upon record its appreciation of the eminent services rendered the Democratic party and the nation by Richard Olney, and expresses its firm conviction that under his leadership in the coming Presidential campaign important New England States will swing over into the Democratic column and the national party will achieve a sweeping victory, insuring a speedy reform of the abuses following a continuance in power of the Republican party and the re-establishment of those fundamental principles of government which that party has deliberately and flagrantly violated. To this end we invite the co-operation of the Democrats of New England and of the Nation."

These resolutions were introduced by Congressman McCarry, who classifies Mr. Olney as one of the "foremost Americans and foremost Democrats."

BRYAN ON CONVENTION

Does Not Favor New York City But Wants Big Gathering in Center of Country—Declined to Talk About the Platform for National Contest.

New York, Jan. 11.—Wm. J. Bryan upon his return from Europe was tendered a reception by friends in this city. He said he never felt better. Asked what sort of a trip he had he believed it was a trip unique in winter trans-Atlantic travel. There were two and a half days of storm starting and five days of glorious weather, almost dead calm, and then the last couple of days very rough and very high seas.

Coming up the bay, Mr. Bryan held a general reception. He declined to talk specifically for publication on the ground that he intended to write of his experiences and did not desire all the impressions he had gained to be old before his own writings had achieved print.

Mr. Bryan said he visited ten capitals and a part of Sweden. He spent 14 hours with Count Tolstoi. He also saw Max Nordau and Mr. Croker. He and Mr. Croker visited each other he said.

"What did you say to each other?" was asked.

"I don't think we said anything of public interest. You must remember that I know less of what has been going on in this country during the last two months than in any two months of my life."

Mr. Bryan heard of the Chicago fire just as he was leaving Liverpool, but got none of the particulars. He expressed himself as greatly shocked when informed of the great loss of life.

Asked about the great men he had visited Mr. Bryan said that he thought Mr. Balfour Brundage's premier, one of the most scholarly men he had ever met. He spoke in terms of high praise and gratitude of the manner in which he had been received and helped by Ambassador Choate and all the other American representatives to whom he had applied.

"I met President Loubet of France," Mr. Bryan said, "and found him very pleasant. President Decher of Switzerland, is a very genial man."

Will the A. T. Copy It Too?

Editor Advocate:—Do you know enough to know when the Ohio State Journal—bless its old heart—will get 'leave to print' its long suppressed editorial booming Mark Hanna for the Presidency? Wouldn't it be too bad, if such a choice piece of literature should never, no never, see the light of day?

And, say, Mr. Advocate, if this editorial should some day appear in the State Journal, and none of the other Newark papers wants to reprint it, won't you copy it in your paper, so we Newark people can all have the good of it, eh?

with German characteristics strongly marked. The czar of Russia also appeared to me to be very charming. The crown prince of Denmark is affable and friendly to a degree. With the exception of President Loubet, all of them spoke English well. I enjoyed the visit to the vatican and was presented to the pope by Father Kennedy, the head of the American college in Rome. The pope did not speak English. I was greatly impressed with the friendly feeling everywhere exhibited to the American people. I don't think it was the friendship of awe. They seemed to like us.

"Do you agree with other travelers that the people are really more the rulers in England than in this country?" he was asked.

"In England, I think," Mr. Bryan said, "public opinion prevails more than in any other place I know, except, perhaps, France and Switzerland. Switzerland is far more democratic than the United States. Public opinion controls there more quickly than anywhere I know."

Mr. Bryan said he was going to Connecticut on Monday and that he hopes to be able to go to Nebraska before the end of the coming week.

Asked if he favored holding the Democratic national convention in New York, Mr. Bryan gave an emphatic negative answer. He said: "If you people have got as much money as you say you have, you can afford to go into the center of the country. You have been boasting about your wealth, and can afford to spend a little of it. I am opposed to any extreme point of the country being taken for the convention."

Mr. Bryan would not say where he would like the convention, but suggested somewhere in the center of the country.

Mr. Bryan would not talk about platforms. He said he knew of nothing that should be taken out of the last platform and could not say what should be added. He refused to discuss the Panama situation, saying he wanted to know more about it.

A New Bridge.

(Communicated.)

The new bridge over the South Fork of the Licking river has been completed. It is a necessary adjunct for the residents in South Newark and all the townships of southern Licking county. It is an outlet from the south to the West End, the Fair Grounds, the Encampment Grounds and the big factories in the West End. As yet it is not safe to drive over the bridge as the approaches are not filled up to a level with either end of the bridge, and the Board of Public Safety or other proper authority should see that red signals are placed for the protection of the driving public. The approaches should be filled up at once, in order to avoid accidents.

HELP BANKER TO MAKE ESCAPE

Sharon, Ind., Jan. 11.—Frank Espeyach, who assisted Gabriel Hoessea, the Sharon banker, charged with embezzlement of $15,000, to escape from a train at Birmingham, N. Y., is in Pittsburg and the police have been asked to arrest him.

Hoessea was handcuffed to Espeyach, and when State Officer Charles Flowers took a nap, the pair left the train. Espeyach was soon by Banker Hamory of Sharon, but as he had no authority to arrest him, he allowed him to depart. Espeyach claims he is penniless.

TROOPS GUARD JEWS

Kishinev, Jan. 11.—Seven thousand troops have been put on guard here by the Governor, who is not satisfied that the proposed massacre of Jews has been abandoned. The troops have been divided into ten divisions, with orders to use their weapons, if necessary, to protect the Jews.

The troops will remain in full power for seven days. The police have been ordered to observe them in every detail, so that the military aspect will awe the rioters. The leaders in the plot have become frightened and it is said, have decided to postpone their plans until a more propitious time.

PEN ANNEX

Is a Very Sad Place, but it Furnishes Many Amusing Incidents—Two are Mentioned Below.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The grim annex at the Ohio penitentiary has not been without its humorous incidents. One of these occurred Friday when Warden Hershey was preparing to send Alfred Knapp, the strangler, back to Hamilton for retrial. Following the usual custom the warden ordered him handcuffed. Knapp protested and argued the matter with much verbosity.

To quiet him in the shortest manner the warden declared in emphatic tones: "Of course you've got to be handcuffed Knapp. You're an insane man. They always put double handcuffs on crazy people." As Knapp has always asserted insanity as excuse for his crimes, he was left without any grounds for protest.

Another incident which caused much amusement to those who were present happened recently when Miss McMassters, the warden's private secretary, visited the annex to record the statistics of the inmates. Soon she reached Bennett, the Kentucky negro, who murdered his wife at Oberlin, and asked the question, "Are you married or single?" Bennett looked dazed, then answered, "I dunno, ma'am, just what you would call it," while all the others, seeing his embarrassment, burst out in laughter.

OLD FOLKS

THEIR DAYS MAY BE PROLONGED
How the Evening of Life May be Made Happier for All.

"If people only knew the good that Vinol does old people," said Mr. Frank D. Hall, our well known druggist, "columns of space in our newspapers would be devoted to the subject for the benefit of mankind in general. I can truly say that we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol as a strengthener and body-builder for the old people."

"You see, with old age comes feebleness and loss of power, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the appetite is poor, the digestion weak, and there is not that same renewal of body tissue."

"There is nothing more pitiful to me than to see old people tottering around. I know that Vinol cannot bring back lost years, but it will lengthen life and brighten the years that remain."

"We are hearing from all over the country remarkable results which prove my statement, and we have received letters from sons and daughters of old people telling how father or mother has been made well and happy by the vigor and strength which Vinol brings the old."

"It was only a few days ago a letter was brought to my attention from Mr. John G. Nichols of Lawrence, Mass., in which he said that he was eighty-four years old, and he had not felt so well for fifteen years as he had since taking Vinol: it gave him a good appetite, and he feels strong and well, and is working every day from 6 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock at night."

"It's just this way," continued Mr. Hall. "Vinol invigorates the stomach first of all, creates an appetite and enables the stomach to separate from food the elements needed for rich, red blood, healthy body material and sound, steady nerves. In this natural manner it repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength."

"For any one suffering from any weakened, run down condition Vinol will do the same; and it is because we know so well what Vinol will do that we guarantee its action, and we will gladly refund the money paid for it to any one who is not satisfied. I wish every old person in this vicinity would just try Vinol on our guarantee. If it does not satisfy, then it will not cost them a cent. Frank D. Hall, Druggist."

I announce to the world that I have an absolute cure for drunkenness. Any woman can cure her husband, son or brother, or any one of her drinking, by secretly placing White Ribbon Remedy in his coffee, tea or food, without his knowledge. This has been done in thousands of cases, and the cures have been permanent. White Ribbon Remedy is entirely odorless and tasteless. Any good and faithful woman can wipe out this fearful drink evil, and permanently stop the craving for liquor. By degrees the patient gets a distaste for intoxicants, and finally leaves off altogether.

Recommended by Members of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union

White Ribbon Remedy cures and destroys the diseased appetite for all alcoholic drinks, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, a "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using White Ribbon Remedy.

GOOD FORTUNE

Smiles Upon Newark Young Men Who Receive Shares of Their Grandfather's Estate Valued at $50,000--Philip Hoppe's Will.

It is always with a degree of pleasure that the public learns of good fortune befalling those who are worthy, and the interest that attaches to the disposition of a legacy is especially lively and creates genuine satisfaction, if the beneficiary of a will or the law of descent, is one who has little of this world's goods, and depends for all that comes to him upon the reward of merit and hard work.

Philip Hoppe was an esteemed German resident of Roscoe, a little town across the river from Coshocton, until New Year's day last, when he died at the age of 77 years. In early life Philip Hoppe was a cobbler and shoe maker, and in spite of the fact that as far as a meddlesome concern about other people's affairs he "stuck to his last," his eye was always open to any kind of an opportunity that offered for honest investment. He was frugal and industrious with the result that he accumulated considerable money which he invested in real estate, with good judgment and business foresight. His investments were profitable and in later life he was enabled to live in ease and comparative luxury, without the toil involved in getting together the savings of many years. His "talents earned for him other talents" and he lived to be an old man, honored, respected and well-to-do.

Mr. Hoppe was the father of several children, who are still living, three sons and a daughter, Mrs. Belle Benning, the old gentleman having made his home with Mrs. Benning where he died. Another daughter, Mrs. Charles Handel, died some years ago in Newark, where her husband lived until he was taken to the state hospital at Columbus, where he still remains. It is with these two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Handel, Arthur and David, that this story has to do. David Handel is a barber in the shop of Lyon & Miller, while Arthur, the younger, a lad about 16 years of age, is a meter reader in the employ of the Gas Light and Coke company.

Philip Hoppe died leaving an estate valued at probably $50,000, of which $12,000 is in cash and convertible securities.

This estate is divided by testament into six parts, the four living children of the testator receiving one-sixth each, the other two shares of one-sixth going to the heirs of the two deceased daughters of Philip Hoppe, a Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Charles Handel. Mrs. Smith left one son, Charley Smith of Coshocton, who will take his mother's share, one-sixth of the whole, while Arthur and David Handel together take their mother's sixth, each receiving one-twelfth of the whole.

David is of age and will get his money in a few days, while Arthur will have a guardian appointed who will take his legacy in trust for him. The latter has been brought up by two aunts, Miss Louise Handel and Mrs. Webber, in their humble home on South German street, near the fork of the roads south of the German street bridge.

The young men are industrious and well balanced it is said by those who know them, and are deserving in every way of their good fortune.

THE GIRL

Blocked a Matrimonial Deal Made by Edwin Everhard With the Young Woman's Father.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 11—Almost like the Biblical story of Jacob, reads Edwin Everhard's narrative of his contract with Alfred Jonas, which was to give him the farmer's daughter in marriage in return for six months' labor on the farm. The deviation comes at the conclusion.

In Everhard's case another man won the affections of the girl, and the modern Jacob got himself in jail for stealing a horse as a retaliatory measure against the father for breach of contract.

The incident took place on the Jonas farm near Sioux Falls. Jonas had a pretty 16 year old daughter, Minnie, and a liking for Everhard. He needed help on the farm and thought a son-in-law would fill the bill.

As Everhard, who is a young man, needed a helpmate, and was enchanted by Minnie Jonas' fetching personality, the bargain seemed suitable in every way. "I was to help on the farm work half a year," said Everhard, "then I was to marry Minnie and the farm was to be our home."

"Before the expiration of six months I learned that Minnie preferred a rival."

"Jonas said his end of the contract was carried out to the letter, because all he promised was consent."

"I did not propose to get the short end of the bargain and ran off with the horse."

RURAL

Carriers Met at the Home of Mr. Lake and Enjoyed a Discussion and Refreshments.

The Rural Free Delivery Letter Carriers' Association of Licking county met in regular session Saturday night at the residence of Carrier J. M. Lake, of South Third street, with President H. O. Dorsey and Secretary W. M. Harrison of Utica, presiding. Eighteen carriers were present. Newark, Hebron, Granville, Utica, Johnston and Alexandria were represented.

Miss Mary E. Cheek of Toboso, one of the rural carrier, and two sub-carriers, Mrs. H. O. Dorsey and James Horton were among those present.

Postmaster J. M. Iskes who met with the carriers delivered an address of instruction and encouragement and Mr. Iskes was invited to meet again with the carriers on March 19 at the residence of H. O. Dorsey, 99 West Locust street.

Methods of keeping and shoeing horses, betterment of the delivery of country mail, salaries and other matters were discussed. The carriers also talked of methods of reaching the state legislature on the improvement of country roads many of which are in bad condition in the winter season.

Four new carriers were received as members of the association. This county now has 17 rural routes and nearly all of the carriers are members of the organization.

At the close of the enjoyable program Mr. and Mrs. Lake served refreshments.

DEVIL ANSE'S CANE.
Coshocton, O., Jan. 11—"Old Devil Anse" Hatfield's walking stick is now the possession of County Auditor Charley Lamberson, of this city. It was sent Mr. Lamberson by a friend in Parkersburg, W. Va., having been secured from the aged leader of the Kentucky Hatfield-McCoy feud, when he was in the West Virginia city as a witness at the United States court. It is of apple wood, and is covered with significant looking notches. It's handle is forked and gnarled, like a devil's trident.

By the terms of the contest only rats, mice, sparrows, owls, moles and ground squirrels were to be killed, the losing side to furnish a supper to the winners. When the count was made it was found that Captain Smith's side had credited to them 15,000 points and Captain McFadden's side 13,300 points. A big supper will be served the winners at the Highwater church on Saturday evening, January 15. Come and bring your friends.

SAYS DUMONT

Inventor Arrives in New York to See About Entering the World's Fair Competition.

New York, Jan. 11—M. Santos-Dumont got to New York on La Savole after an exciting passage from Havre. "A giant wave dashed against the steamer when we were a few hours out," said the aeronaut, "and I wished that my flying machine were with me." To your correspondent Santos-Dumont said he was here to find out if the St. Louis fair people are in earnest in offering $100,000 to the successful competitor in an airship race.

"I have received no definite information," the aeronaut said, "but I think the sum will be guaranteed and that I will know by Wednesday. Then I shall go to St. Louis. I sincerely hope all financial arrangements will be made, because then I will carry back to France with me the purse."

He said he is experimenting continually. Before he returns to France he may go to Dayton, O., and look at the machine said to have made successful flights in North Carolina. "Soon," he said, "you will see three horse power airships taking the place of automobiles for pleasure and commercial purposes. My little machine at home I call my 'runabout,' is as easily handled as a gentle horse between buggy shafts.

"When the weather is good I start from my door and take a ride about town with one or more friends and descend with the ease of a hawk."

MOROS

To Number of 300 Among Them Women and Children Killed.

Washington, Jan. 11—Mail advices to the war department received today contain more and to a certain extent, sensational details of a fight with Moros with which General Leonard Wood inaugurated his reign over Mindanao and Sulu. At the time of the fighting, a great number of Moros were killed, some 300 or more in one skirmish. It seems inexplicable, but it now develops that among the dead were many women and children who went into battle, if it may so be termed, armed only with knives. The men according to these same dispatches, had a variety of firearms including a lot of Chinese guns.

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here Is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening. Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

The family doctor is summoned, and after a careful examination leaves a medicine that brings relief.

In a day or two the man is about his business, weak and still unrecovered from the effects of the pain and the shock to his nervous system.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering and the cost of a prescription.

A wise man should prepare for such emergencies. Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and indigestion can never bother you.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets cure stomach troubles by supplying the one element, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They enable the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to cure indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

Price 25 cents per full package. Sold only at our store or by mail.

NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

Quarrel of Cassatt and Gould Ends--Settlement Reached in Financial Contest That Has Cost Millions--Local and General Railway News.

New York, Jan. 11.—It is stated on good authority that within ten days there will be an announcement of a settlement of the Gould-Cassatt war. Peace has been arranged, and the great battle which has done so much to disturb the stock market and to cause a decline in security values equal to more than $200,000,000 will take its place in pages of the country's financial history.

A man close to the Rockefellers and also a great friend to Mr. Cassatt makes the statement that the terms of the settlement would be announced shortly.

This explains the strength of the Wabash stocks during the last few days. These stocks have been bought freely by men in close touch with the "Western Union," Pennsylvania and two interests and the gradual advance in their prices, which has been a mystery during the last week is now explained.

Just what the terms of settlement are cannot be definitely stated, but it is believed that the terms include the admission of the Wabash railroad into New York.

The Western Union wires will be replaced on the Pennsylvania right-of-way, although the offices of the Western Union, which were on the property of the railroad, will remain where they have been removed to.

Just how the Wabash will be admitted to New York is yet a mystery, but it is almost certain that this is part of the terms of settlement. Mr. Gould has forced his way into Pittsburgh, and, despite all efforts of the Pennsylvania and other roads, has entered Baltimore. This gives him Atlantic ports. He has a gulf port and will get into San Francisco over the Harriman roads.

This ends one of the most momentous battles in the history of the financial world. It cost thousands of investors all over the country half of their fortunes. The fight which began when George Gould forced his way into Pittsburgh with the Wabash railroad, was carried into the stock market.

The Rockefeller-Gould combinations began a systematic attack upon Pennsylvania stock and forced it down to 110-115, when Mr. Cassatt, after appealing to J. P. Morgan and being refused help, made overtures to the Goulds for peace.

He refused the first terms submitted and the stock was again attacked and then he surrendered. The discussion as to the final terms of settlement has been going on ever since and this semi-official announcement that the terms of peace have been arranged will be received by Wall street with sighs of relief.

At the Pennsylvania offices no information could be obtained as to a settlement. At such news, it was said, would have to come from Philadelphia. At the offices of Mr. Gould it was said that Mr. Gould was out and that there was no one who could answer any questions about the matter. All efforts to see Mr. Rockefeller failed as usual.

In several offices on Wall street through which the Standard Oil oper-

terday 21 Italian marines and an officer reached there. One hundred and twenty more Russian marines were expected at Seoul today and 100 more tomorrow.

The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the Russian Government has sent to the Chinese Government a threat that Russia would immediately occupy Peking should China join forces with Japan. As a result the Grand Council has advised the throne to adopt the policy of neutrality.

Admiral Ito is freely expressed among diplomats here at the manner in which Japan has conducted the negotiations with Russia. Up to this point the representatives of the Mikado have not made a false move, and have cleverly countered all the efforts of the shrewd Russian diplomats to put the Asiatics in the wrong or to force them to commit the first overt act of war.

It is said that the last note of Japan simply reiterates the proposition of the former ones, and announces that unless they are recognized by Russia within a reasonable time Japan will feel at liberty to take such action to safeguard her interests as the Mikado's Government may deem necessary. This, in all probability, will take the form of sending Japanese troops to Korea to protect Japanese interests. Under treaty rights Japan has this right, and even if she should send an army corps the action would not in itself constitute an act of war.

With a powerful Japanese army in Korea, that country would bear the same relation to Japan as Egypt to England or Manchuria to Russia, and nothing short of superior force would dislodge Japan. It would then be up to Russia to make the first warlike move. That this is the plan fully determined upon by the Japanese Government is generally believed. Just how soon it will be put into effect only the Government at Tokyo has any definite idea, but surface indications point to the fact that it will not be delayed very long.

The situation would be intolerable for Russia, for with Korea in the hands of Japan all her Pacific provinces, particularly Manchuria, would be threatened. It is regarded as possible, however, that a counter move will not be made by Russia for some little time, not, in fact, until she has had time to concentrate an overwhelming force both on land and sea.

Up to this time, however, the Japanese seem to have outmaneuvered the European diplomats and have control of the situation.

All sorts of pressure is being brought to bear on Russia by France and England to get her to concede the Japanese demands. Small hope is entertained here, however, that this pressure will be effective. Russia has no intention of giving up her chance for an all-year open port in the Pacific, and she considers a naval station at Masampo in Southern Korea to be essential. It is this latter, perhaps, which has done more than anything else to arouse Japan, who not unreasonably looks upon a fortified Russian outpost practically at her very doors as intolerable.

It is learned on the highest authority that it has been decided in the event of war between Russia and Japan that Germany will maintain a strict neutrality and that other members of the Dreihund will observe a similar attitude.

APPREHENSION

Over Report That Japan Will Establish Korean Protectorate.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—There have been no new developments in the far Eastern crisis so far as the diplomatic corps knows, and none is expected for a few days at least. Some apprehension is felt in official circles over the report that Japan intends to establish a protectorate over Korea, but there is a disposition to doubt if anything of this sort will be done at present. It is admitted that if there is a large increase in the Japanese force on Korean soil it would add greatly to the gravity of the situation. Nothing is made public yet about the nature of the latest Japanese note. There has been up to this time no cabinet meeting to discuss it. If it is merely a repetition of previous demands it is not probable that a meeting will be called, Count Lamsdorff being left to deal with it himself.

The most reliable news received here is that the mass of Russian troops in the far East are concentrated at Vladivostok or on the northern frontier of Korea.

A traveler lately returned from the far East estimates that between 100,000 and 200,000 soldiers were in the vicinity of Vladivostok.

INDICATIONS

In Seoul That Russian Influences Still Predominate Korea.

Seoul, Jan. 11.—By order of the Emperor the council of state met to settle the question of the opening of the Jiji and Yongampho, but it was decided that by reason of their recent death of the queen dowager nothing should be done for the present. According to custom no business can be transacted until the sacrifices are complete. Thus another 10 days must elapse. This indicates that Russian influence still predominates with the Korean government.

Preparations are being made for the reception of a large French guard, which is expected for the protection of the legation.

FOR PEACE

The Czar is Said to be Inclined—Orders to Alexeff.

London, Jan. 11.—The Post's St. Petersburg correspondent says the Emperor is throwing his influence into the scale of peace. The proceedings at a recent meeting of the Asiatic council were stormy and were ended dramatically. "Am I Emperor of Russia or am I not?" the Czar exclaimed as he left the council chamber. "Am I Emperor of Peace or am I not?" The Emperor afterward telegraphed Admiral Alexeff ordering him not to make any movement of troops or take any action whatever, without the Czar's direct personal command.

NOT AN INCH

Will Japan Recede From Her Demands, it is Asserted.

Tokio, Jan. 11.—It is not expected that any satisfactory reply to Japan's last note will be received from Russia. If indeed any reply at all is revealed in fact, the opinion prevails now that negotiations have reached an impasse and practically are closed. Japan has notified Russia of the least which will satisfy her, and Russia had indicated the greatest length in the way of concessions she is willing to go. There is a wide gulf between the two positions which cannot be filled by diplomacy without a back down. It can be stated with certainty that Japan will not concede an inch and it is not believed Russia will.

The average American makes 25 trips on a railroad in a year. Some of these trips are exceedingly short, yet the average American gets on the train 19 times oftener than does his English cousin.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

AMUSEMENTS.

There will be a theatrical jubilee at the Auditorium all this week, when the Wilbur Mack company will appear in a list of high class comedy dramas and comedies. The Wilbur Mack company is a leader in the repertoire field. The plays produced by this company are the sole right of Mr. Mack, and no company other than the Wilbur Mack company has the right to play them in the middle states. Mr. Wilbur Mack is a great comedian, and has as an extra attraction the very best monologue and dancing comedian on the boards today, that person being an old resident of Newark for 10 years, Mr. Billy Stanford, and as another added attraction Mr. Mack is seconded by one of the daintiest little ladies before the public, and the cleverest soubrette and sweet singer, Miss Gertie Lewis. The supporting company is "way above the average" and is equal, if not superior to the more pretentious high priced attractions. They will open their engagement at the Auditorium tonight. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents. Ladies free tonight only, providing seats are secured by 6 p. m. and they are accompanied by the holder of a paid 50 cents ticket.

COMING NEXT WEEK.

On January 19 the Whitney Opera company will bring the latest comic opera success "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" to the Auditorium. The entire production will be presented with all its elaborate detail of scenery, mechanical and costume effects, and superb cast that characterized the long run which the piece enjoyed at the New York theatre, N. Y. In fact the opera will be brought here direct from New York. The opera has more action, more popular songs and more picturesque mise-en-scene than any musical piece that has been produced in years. The music ranges from grand opera to ballads, the choruses are strong, well voiced and keep beautiful time throughout, while an air of patriotism pervades the entire work. The company includes a notable cast of favorites and a large chorus.

For a bad taste in the mouth take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price 25 cents. Warranted to cure. For sale by all druggists.

SSS THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic suited to every requirement of the system when in a debilitated, run down condition. It contains no strong minerals or drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no better remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep when in a low state of health, or sick and worn out with work or worry.

S. S. S. improves the appetite, aids the digestion and reinforces the system, and its good effects are almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, drowsiness and dizziness that so often come after eating.

S. S. S. is not only the best tonic but possesses alterative or purifying properties, and if there is any taint, humor or poison in the blood it searches it out, and removes it. Many times a low state of health is due to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by a blood purifier and tonic combined, or such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing will so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up the system as S. S. S.

THE WOMAN FAKIR

She Is Everywhere

"A" H, well, I suppose we're all of us fakirs, more or less," began the woman who had to put on magnificent appearances on a tiny income.

"If you really want to see women fakirs, though, you want to go to a large city," remarked the woman who knew.

"Or to heathen countries," put in a third—some of the women missionaries they send out, for instance."

"Now, I'm not going to have anything said about missionaries."

"My dear, I'm not saying anything against the noble women who go out there and roam in the sun and freeze in the wind and rain with the laudable purpose of really helping the starving and the unfortunate, but there are some women—and I speak with knowledge—who undertake this missionary work just to make themselves persons of importance. I have in mind one woman in particular, born in a small village, without a ghost of a chance to amount to anything. Her drab hair tightly drawn back from her sharp pointed features suggested a weasel or a bird of prey. Well, she was getting into sear and sad spinsterhood when she happened to meet some one who sent out missionaries to faraway India.

By the exercise of a little hypocrisy and mock piety she managed to be sent out as nurse. She stayed over there four years and at the end of that time returned with considerable avoidpools, a florid, self satisfied countenance, the title of doctor—which she had procured heaven knows how—and two trunks simply packed with spoils from the heathen—presents, as she explained, from admiring and grateful patients. But there is room for doubt on that score. Anyway they were a choice lot of valuable bits taken here and there from different parts of the country. So now with the prestige of her foreign travel she has set up an office in a fashionable locality where, with a wise air, she doles out advice to foolish women and takes in fat fees.

"My dear, speaking of bogus church work, you should be at the head of a settlement in the slums to see sweet charity worked for the social game."

"A nice opportunity for parvenus?"

"A nice opportunity for parvenus—a nice opportunity for all sorts of people who never had a decent social circle of their own. They come to the settlement and proffer their services free of charge for the suffering poor, and then, my dear, they become acquainted with the patronesses, and they graft, graft, graft! They spend every cent of the best advantage too. If they give a dinner to the infant kindergarten they invite dear Mrs. Fitzmillian, the fourdness and patron saint of the institution, to preside, and how can she refuse when so much is being done for her little ones? The next day an account of the whole affair appears in the newspapers, and Mrs. Fitzmillian's name is linked with that of her patronesses."

"And don't forget sweet charity for a percentage," put in the business man. "That is the worst form of fakirism. My dear woman, just imagine yourself a busy man, scribbling away in your private office, when suddenly two ladies are announced, and when they are grudgingly admitted to your august presence you find they are two stunning young girls—real ladies, mind you—beautifully and irreproachably gowned in the finest cloth and velvet. The elder of the two begins with a pretty, diffident blush, to solicit your subscription for the Home For Siberian Orphans With One Foot, let us say. They both explain that they have to go around in this way with another pretty bluish, that they are not used to it, but the home is in such need, the orphans have no shoes or stockings, a holiday is drawing nigh, and this seems to be the only way to collect money from the hard hearted merchants and financiers who can well afford it. What would you do if your little ones had only one foot each and no shoes and stockings? You thrust your hand hastily into your pocket; you give them $5, $10, whatever. How can you refuse such well bred, plainly embarrassed girls who are thus doing violence to their natural dignity for sweet charity? And do the infants do their shoes? Well, perhaps they do, and perhaps they don't, but anyway not until the percentage, and a large one, has been deducted for the largest of the sweet, refined, shrinking young creatures."

POULTRY

EXHIBIT PROMISES TO BE WORTH SEEING.

About 200 Birds Will be Seen at Music Hall Friday and Saturday of This Week.

The members of the Poultry Association feel very much gratified over the outlook for an excellent exhibition of pure bred poultry to be held in the Music Hall in Newark on Friday and Saturday, January 15 and 16, as about 150 birds have already been entered, with at least 50 more to come in.

Through the effort of A. H. Powell, about 75 special prizes have been donated by the business men of Newark.

The prizes consist of cash and merchandise, aggregating a value of at least one hundred dollars, and are quite equally divided among the different breeds.

The placing by the expert judge of these specials, together with the honorary prizes, promises to create a very interesting occasion for the "chicken cranks," and those who attend will find one of the best exhibits of poultry ever shown in Licking county.

The hall will be open to the public on Friday, Friday evening, and Saturday.

All stock must be cooped and in the hall Thursday evening and remain until Saturday afternoon.

Birds belonging to exhibitors who cannot be present during the entire time will be cared for.

Entries can be made up to an including Wednesday, January 13.

T. E. Orr will be present and score all birds. Entries, 15 cents per bird.

MAD DOG

KILLED SUNDAY BY CHARLES E. STASEL.

Exciting Chase After Dog That Had Bitten Other Animals Sunday. Other Dogs Killed.

An exciting chase which ended in a mad dog being killed Sunday afternoon, was participated in by Mr. Chas. E. Stasel. David Taylor and Harvey Irvine, south of Newark, Mr. Stasel finally dispatching the animal.

About 1:30 o'clock Mr. Chas. Stasel of Summit and South Second street noticed a dark colored dog with gray breast, sharp pointed ears and weighing about 70 pounds, with mouth open, ears back, tail down and evincing other symptoms of rabies, in his yard, where he was creating a panic among the chickens and other domestic animals.

He got his gun but found it was not loaded, and the dog started away. Mr. Stasel snatched up some cartridges, and not stopping to put on a coat, started in pursuit. He was joined by David Taylor and the two followed the dog about a mile south of town, but they could not get near enough to shoot him. At this juncture Harvey Irvine came along in a sleigh, and Mr. Stasel got in and renewed the chase. About a half mile further on they came up with the mad dog and Mr. Stasel shot and wounded him, but did not injure him fatally. The dog ran on and a second time Mr. Stasel overtook the dog. He got out of the sleigh and the dog attacked him, but a well aimed shot from the gun ended the animal's career.

A shepherd dog belonging to Rufus Stasel and a beagle hound belonging to Charles E. Stasel were bitten and had to be killed, while a number of Mr. John Stasel's chickens had been wounded and they also were killed. Several other dogs in the neighborhood were bitten, and they will be killed, among them one belonging to John Kleckler.

Mr. Stasel is suffering from a severe cold as a result of the exposure incident to the chase, as he had no coat nor vest on during the time.

CUTTING CORN, BUT JOHN BOLEN APPLIED TOO LATE.

Arrested by Police at Jones' East Side Store—Leather Soles Found in His Pockets.

John Bolen, alias "Doc" Bolen, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Officers Zergiebel and Carroll as he came out of J. C. Jones' store on the east side of the square. Bolen was slightly under the influence of liquor, and as he is known to the police as a sneak thief he was arrested on suspicion. When he was searched at the city prison, three pairs of leather half soles were found in his possession, that had been stolen from a lot in the front of the Jones store. The soles are worth about 10 or 15 cents apiece.

Bolen went into the store and asked for work saying he wanted a job "cutting corn." At this season of the year, this kind of work, and making hay is Bolen's specialty, but in summer he would rather work on the canal cutting ice than do anything else in the way of manual labor.

ROBBER CONFESSES TO KILLING MEN

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 11.—John M. Shockley has made a full confession of the murder of Motorman Gleason and Conductor Brighton, who were shot and killed by a lone highwayman who attempted to rob them in their car late Wednesday evening.

In his confession Shockley declared he had no intention of killing his victims, but they put up such a vigorous fight when he attempted to rob them that he was forced to shoot them in self defense.

After the tragedy, he says, he contemplated suicide, but his nerve failed him when he put his pistol to his head.

Shockley says he is heir to considerable property and he wants to sign this over, without reserve, to aid the families of his victims.

COMPANY G

TAKES A PART IN THE INAUGURAL CEREMONY.

Newark Boys in the Parade at Columbus Monday—Newark People at the Inauguration

Company G, which, as a part of the Fourth regiment, took a prominent part in the inaugural parade, incident to the induction of Col. M. T. Herrick as governor of Ohio, left Newark for Columbus over the Pan Handle at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The company en route to Columbus, and return, was under the command of Captain G. C. Crawford, Lieutenant Wilson Heisey and George Henry. In Columbus, Captain Crawford, who is the ranking captain of the regiment, took charge of the battalion of Columbus companies, while the command of Company G devolved upon Lieutenant Heisey.

Newark People at Inauguration.

A great number of Newark citizens went to Columbus to attend the inauguration on both steam and interurban roads. The Buckeye Lake road had a splendid service, which was installed for the day by Superintendent of Transportation F. A. Bontelle, under orders from General Manager J. R. Harrigan. Every hour trains of at least two cars left the interurban station on North Park Place, and returning cars left Columbus from the interurban station on Gay street, as well as the corner of High and Mound streets.

DR. DUVALL

Was Unable to be Present but Prof Smyser Spoke at Taylor Hall in His Place.

Those who were present at the Men's Meeting yesterday afternoon were given a rare treat. The musical program from 3:00 to 3:30 consisting of vocal solos and duets by Mr. Thos. Phillips, tenor, and Miss Lesta Gell, soprano, members of the Denison Quartet, was fully up to the high standard that the musicians from the university have been furnishing at the Y. M. C. A. this season.

Those who heard Dr. Duvall last Sunday, and were expecting something fine in his discussion of the subject which he had announced for yesterday, "Conversion," materially felt some disappointment when Mr. Ebersole announced that owing to the fact that Dr. Duvall had suffered a severe attack of neuralgia late Saturday evening, he would not be able to be present.

Prof. Wm. E. Smyser, who is at the head of the department of English at the Ohio Wesleyan University, had, however, kindly consented to come and fill the engagement. Professor Smyser gave a well prepared paper on Job. If some were disappointed at not having Dr. Duvall present, it is safe to say their disappointment was soon forgotten as they became absorbed in listening to Professor Smyser's eloquent presentation of his subject. At the close of the meeting many expressed themselves as being delighted at having had the opportunity to hear this paper, which gave them such a clear insight into the character of Job, and marked out so clearly the stages of his development, as he strove against the adversities which beset him on every hand.

The Bible classes, after the Men's meeting, were largely attended. The second term of the Bible Study Course is opening with great interest. Thirty-seven young men were in attendance at the three classes yesterday. The subject that was considered was, "Christ Despairing of No Man." These classes are not limited to the members of the Association, any man who wishes to attend is made welcome.

Dr. Duvall will be here next Sunday.

POWER

Insufficient to Allow Buckeye Lake Cars to Run Over the Loop in Columbus

General Manager J. R. Harrigan on Sunday received word from Columbus that the power was insufficient to allow the Buckeye Lake road to run any extra cars around the interurban loop in Columbus, Monday. This did not interfere with the special service, however, during the day, and the extra cars ran to the corner of High and Mound streets, while the regular cars ran around the loop to the interurban station on Gay street as usual.

GRANVILLE

Rural Mail Carriers Having a Hard Time Covering Their Route—Musical Lecture.

Granville, Jan. 11.—The rural mail carriers have been having a hard time of it during the past week. Some of the roads have been covered with heavy drifts of snow, making travel extremely difficult. On the old Columbus road, west of town, the roadway was blocked with drifts from three to four feet in depth for a distance of nearly half a mile. Some of the carriers had considerable difficulty in reaching their patrons. However, the difficulty was soon overcome, since the farmers pitched in and assisted in clearing the roadway.

Miss Blanche Ward of Shepardson college, left Monday for her home in Marietta on account of sickness.

Saturday evening Dr. Henry C. Hanchett, the well known New York pianist, delivered the first of his four lectures on "Studies in Musical Art," in Recital Hall, to a large and appreciative audience. The topic of his lecture was "Materials of Musical Composition." Music lovers were very enthusiastic in their praise of Dr. Hanchett's ability, both as a pianist and lecturer, and those who had heretofore neglected the study of music or who had failed to appreciate it were inspired to a deeper interest. This evening Dr. Hanchett delivered the second of his series of lectures before a large audience.

Sunday the members of the family of Henry Evans, residing a short distance east of Granville, were given quite a scare. A small heating stove that had been used in one of the upper rooms of the house, became out of order, and filled the room with smoke. The stove was taken out without any damage being done.

Homer Jones of Columbus spent Sunday with friends in the village.

Mrs. Jennie Morgan, while attending to her domestic duties on Sunday, fell and bruised herself considerably. Nothing serious resulted and she will soon be herself again.

PRISONER OPENS NINE JAIL DOORS

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 11.—Wm. J. Reid, alias L. O. Hoffman, who is charged with swindling thirty-two hotels of about $10,000, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in 1902, and is now under sentences aggregating ten years for these offenses broke jail here under remarkable circumstances and is still at large.

To accomplish his escape he unlocked nine doors and sawed through three chairs, visited six different rooms of the jail, passed in front of several guards and finally climbed an 18-foot wall.

He was supposed too weak to move without the use of a crutch, had been practically bedridden for three months and so far as the prison officers knew had eaten nothing but beef broth in all that time.

THIS AND THAT

There are 37 free rural mail delivery routes in Licking county.

What a difference between the retirement of General Miles and Young.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says that Col. M. M. Gillett is after the United States Railroad Commission, which carries with it a $5,000 a year salary. It was a sinecure made especially for General Longstreet. Mr. Gillett is not the only candidate, however.

A Zanesville dispatch says that twelve men aspire to the Republican Congressional nomination in that district, among the names mentioned being that of Mr. B. G. Dawes, formerly of Newark, and that of Congressman Van Voorhis, brother of Mr. S. F. Van Voorhis of this city.

The report of Fire Chief Barsch who is inspecting the public buildings and other structures more than two stories in height is awaited with interest. Mr. Barsch is to report to Mayor Crilly and the Board of Public Safety within a few days.

Gen. John B. Gordon, the last of the great Confederate leaders, has passed to his reward, his death having occurred Saturday night at Miami, Fla. General Gordon was a polished orator as well as statesman and soldier. Many Newark people remember his lecture at Granville several years ago on "The Last Days of the Confederacy."

Ohio now has four living ex-governors, Jos. B. Foraker, Jas. E. Campbell, Asa Bushnell and Geo. K. Nash. Chas. Foster, who was governor of Ohio from 1880 to '84 will be buried at Fostoria, O., Tuesday.

Among the men released by the new adjutant general, A. B. Critchfield, is Ben Priest who for many years has been in charge of the furnace at the Capitol and who is well known in Newark. Wm. Sawyer of Licking county is appointed armorer.

HIBERNIANS

Elect Officers for 1904—The Newark Division is in Fine Condition in Every Respect.

The annual election of officers of Division No. 1, A. O. H., of this city, was held on Sunday afternoon and resulted as follows: County president, Daniel A. Murphy; division president, Edward O. Stapleton; division vice president, John Sullivan; financial secretary, Nicholas Campbell; recording secretary, Wm. Stapleton; chaplain, Rev. B. M. O'Boylan; treasurer, John A. Prior; standing committee, D. P. Kearney, John Dwyer and John Kennedy; sergeant-at-arms, Wilson Wildman; inside sentinel, John McNally.

The division starts out in 1904 with a large and active membership and there was a full attendance at this meeting. The last president having made a good officer, was re-elected. The auditing committee, having made a careful annual inspection of the officers' accounts, reported them as being in excellent condition. The treasurer's report shows that the division is in a sound financial condition and that it has a handsome surplus on hand. This energetic society, Sons of Erin, is one of the most flourishing in the city, and it is one of the most charitable and beneficial. Very little sickness was reported during the last fiscal year. The year 1903 was a good one for the division.

GILLETT

SEEKS APPOINTMENT FROM THE PRESIDENT.

Newark Man Asks to be Installed in Place Vacated by Death of Ben. Longstreet.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington Sunday announces that Col. Melville M. Gillett of this city, who was a candidate for auditor of state before the last state convention, is an aspirant for the office of United States commissioner of railroads, made vacant by the death of General Longstreet.

He has written to a number of Republican members of the Buckeye delegation in Congress, asking them to endorse him for the place and urge the President to make the appointment.

There are a number of other candidates from various parts of the country.

The office of railroad commissioner is a sinecure and pays $5000 a year. The secretary of the interior favors its abolition, inasmuch as there is practically no work for the commissioner to do except to sign his pay vouchers. It is thought Congress will make no provision for the continuance of the place.
